Donors:

Thank you for reading AccessHealth Spartanburg's 2017 Report to the Community. Together with our partners and the support of many healthcare providers, volunteers, funders and dedicated staff members, we have made a significant difference in the lives of thousands of our fellow Spartanburg County citizens.

Since AccessHealth Spartanburg first opened its doors in 2010, we have seen a number of significant changes in the state and national healthcare funding mechanisms and overall systems. AHS has proven to be a nimble organization that has been able to grow and adapt to those changes, and ultimately make a difference and play a leading role in building a healthier, more prosperous community.

Delivering Results

Since its founding, AccessHealth Spartanburg has connected more than 6,500 individuals to medical care and other needed services. Data shows that our work continues to result in decreased hospital utilization and associated costs. Meanwhile, the increase in quality of life for those clients is immeasurable.

Affirmation

I am very pleased to share that the Duke Endowment reaffirmed its commitment to AHS with another two-year grant totaling $500,000. Additionally, AHS received a $250,000 contribution from a local funder last year. This funding helped AHS add an Operations Manager and a care navigator to concentrate their efforts on one of Spartanburg's most challenged communities.

Funders and partners are not the only ones taking note of and affirming that our work is making a difference. AccessHealth Spartanburg was recognized by the City of Spartanburg last year with their Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Humanitarian Award. AccessHealth Spartanburg's impact was also recognized by America's Essential Hospitals with the 2017 Gage Award.

Looking Forward

While I am heartened by what we have accomplished, there remains plenty of work to do. In the coming year, we will focus our efforts on three priorities:

- Growing and nurturing provider relationships. Each AHS client benefits from the care provided by local physicians.
- Engaging partners and the community. While AccessHealth Spartanburg has a strong reputation, more can be done to ensure our partners and the community are both aware and engaged in our work, and understand the impact we are making.
- Supporting our staff members. Our team works hard and with so much heart! We often forget to take care of ourselves. Providing support and time for renewed dedication to our work is essential.

Thank you again for your support.

I was part of the initial group of staff with AccessHealth when the program opened doors in 2010. Being a part of the implementation of the program and then seeing it to fruition was fulfilling. It started as a three year grant program, and it has just kept growing! To be a groundbreaker and to say that I was part of the program that became a model for the rest of the state is very rewarding. I stayed three years after I graduated with my master's and was with AccessHealth 6 years in all.

I had always worked at the Forrester Center off and on until I went back to school. I was a group leader in the evening and on the weekend, and got involved with them again in 2015 when I began working in domestic violence groups.

When approached about a management position at The Forrester Center for Behavioral Health, I had mixed emotions. I was excited at the opportunity, but torn about leaving AccessHealth. One of the selling points was that I would be able to continue working in partnership with AccessHealth, as the Forrester Center was one of the founding partners of the program.

To anyone who would say, "Oh, they just help them get a doctor" – No, it is so much more. The staff are really invested in what they do. They know the clients' names, ask about their families, and remember the little details. Building that rapport is so important.

AccessHealth has been around long enough to be a staple in Spartanburg. Their reputation is a testament to the work that they have done in the community. Even if someone is not directly connected to the program, there is a good chance they know about it because of a friend or family member who is. I don't see them slowing down at all. The more people they have, the more people they can help, and I can only see this valuable program growing in the future.

Statistics:

An evaluation of hospital inpatient (IP) and emergency department (ED) utilization compiled by the SC Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office reports that AccessHealth network patients who used hospital services had less costly visits due to shorter inpatient lengths of stay and fewer admissions. In fact, combined ED and IP costs were reduced by $3.8 million.

Diagnosis-specific data showed additional positive impact from AHS.

Hypertension patients had a 41% reduction in admissions and a 41% reduction in costs.

Congestive Heart Failure patients had a 40.74% reduction in admissions and a 44.15% reduction in costs.

Behavioral Health patients had a 27% reduction in admissions and a 32.31% reduction in costs.

Diabetes patients had a 32.35% reduction in admissions and a 49.54% reduction in costs.

Patient Profile HOPS: Ronnie Dawson

Ronnie Dawson worked his whole life. He learned what hard work was as a farm hand, and then later made a living as an auto mechanic. And for years, Ronnie fashioned a life anyone would be proud of out of the bedrock of his work ethic, a work ethic that depended upon a strong, healthy body.

And then a few years ago, without warning, his life changed. His eyesight started to fail. By 2015, he was completely blind in one eye and going blind in the other. Uninsured and faced with a steep drop to his income because of his poor eyesight, Ronnie was able to go see an optometrist thanks to the kindness of a friend who paid for the appointment. The diagnosis: he had severe cataracts in both eyes and would need surgery.

With no income and no insurance, Ronnie felt hopeless. As a man who took pride in his work and yet only because of an unforeseen health problem became unable to support himself, he became severely depressed, and started to self-medicate with alcohol.

The health problems started to cascade. Later that same year, Ronnie began suffering from crippling pain in his leg and eventually could no longer walk. By the time Ronnie went to the emergency room to seek treatment, severe heart problems were discovered and he was immediately taken into surgery for a bypass procedure and stent placement.

Ronnie was discharged after a 5 day stay with a raft of bills, a long list of prescribed medications, and a plan that included regular follow-up medical appointments, checkups and tests. “I was completely lost and didn’t know where to turn,” he said.

He was referred to AccessHealth Spartanburg by the hospital discharge planner. It was there that Ronnie met Summer Tebalt, a registered nurse who enrolled him into AccessHealth and connected him to St. Luke’s for primary care and a 28-day alcohol abuse program. She also helped him complete an application for emergency Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (formerly known as food stamps) and Welvista for prescription assistance. Ronnie was immediately connected to the medications he needed and was seen by a primary care physician within a week after enrolling in AccessHealth.

After addressing Ronnie’s immediate medical issues, Tebalt recognized that for Ronnie to regain his independence and resume working, his eyesight would have to be addressed. Tebalt contacted the S.C. Commission for the Blind. Within a few months, Ronnie had surgery to remove the cataracts from both eyes.

“It felt wonderful to be able to see again,” he said. “It took us forever to get home because I just wanted to look at everything.”

Ronnie has been sober for 15 months, is currently back working on the farm and is looking forward to going back into the auto body industry. “AccessHealth gave me my life back. They helped me so much with getting the care that I needed.”

Volunteer Profile: Donovan Davis

College: Wofford College | Major: Biology

Hometown: Spartanburg, South Carolina | Hours of Volunteering to Date: 226

What is your favorite part about volunteering in our office?

I would say my favorite part is watching the staffers change the lives and outlooks of the clients. I also enjoy interacting with an office of ladies who are compassionate and really funny!

How has volunteering impacted your college experience?

Volunteering at AccessHealth has taught me to be organized and maintain a balanced schedule. I've become much more aware of the little things and how they all impact one another to make a big picture.

What would you say to someone who is interested in volunteering at AccessHealth Spartanburg?

A place where the ordinary become extraordinary! A great work environment coupled with dedicated staff and leadership allows for a welcoming place for the community to obtain health care. Come be a part of something larger than just a health care facility. Become a part of a close-knit family who change lives every day

Highlights

“Transforming Complex Care will enable leading health organizations to more effectively address the social determinants of health for high-need, high-cost patients, and will offer lessons for replication that maximize existing community strengths.”

Allison Hamblin, Vice President, Center for Health Care Strategies

Made possible with support from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. www.chcs.org

RWFJ Initiative

In July 2016, AccessHealth was selected to participate in the Transforming Complex Care Initiative led by Center for Health Care Strategies and supported by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. The two-year program is aimed at refining and spreading new models to address the needs of the most complex patients. The grant is helping pay for a new community health worker to work closely with high-need, high-cost patients and study the effectiveness of the practice. Complex patients often have multiple medical, mental health and substance use treatment needs and face social and economic challenges that further complicate their health outcomes. AccessHealth community health workers make home visits as part of intensive care management. David Adler, senior program officer at the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, said, “Caring for patients with complex needs requires innovative programs that go beyond medical issues to address unmet social needs.”

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Humanitarian Award

AccessHealth Spartanburg was honored with the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Humanitarian Award at the 30th annual Unity Week Celebration. The award is given to a business or non-profit organization which exhibits exemplary practices that will have a fundamental impact on our community. AccessHealth Director Carey Rothschild says, "This is a tremendous honor, but more importantly it is important affirmation of the culture our team has built at AccessHealth Spartanburg. Talking about diversity isn't enough. Writing your values down on a piece of paper is insufficient. The City of Spartanburg's MLK Humanitarian Award recognizes organizations that put their values into work, in their hiring and employment, in their outreach, and in their impact on the community. I'm so proud that not just what our team does, but how we do it, was recognized with this award."

I want to thank all of those here at AccessHealth for helping me very swiftly and for not judging me because I have just gotten out of prison and am at Jump Start. I greatly appreciate the friendly atmosphere and people. It brings joy to me knowing that there are still people out in this world who care and wish to help without holding judgment. - D.B.
